

Engineering a Winning Workforce: Engaging the Majority

The UK Workshop Tour 2020

Diversity and Inclusion in UK Nuclear is pleased to partner with EqualEngineers to deliver the training session Engineering a Winning Workforce: Engaging the Majority.

This training has already been delivered to male-majority teams and to over 1,000 engineers, technicians and operatives that work for major engineering employers in the defence, aerospace, rail and energy sectors.

WORKSHOP OBJECTIVES

- Understand your passion and what you can do to create a purpose-driven workforce.
- Evaluate your biases and how they impact on building trust.
- Identify personal and organisational barriers to inclusion and devise an action plan to overcome.
- Articulate your diversity story and become a role model for others.
- Learn how to engage with your peers, clients and employees to have better interpersonal relationships.
- Harness the benefits of positive mental health and wellbeing to thrive at work.

This training course is eligible for grant funding of 100% of the course fees via the ECITB Training Levy for in-scope companies. More information on the ECITB Industrial Training Levy can be found here.

If you are an in-scope company, why not use this mechanism to attend one of our open courses, or to arrange an in-house course of your own? Contact us today for more information.
